

Mayview Regional Service Area

Community Inpatient, EAC, and RTF
Utilization

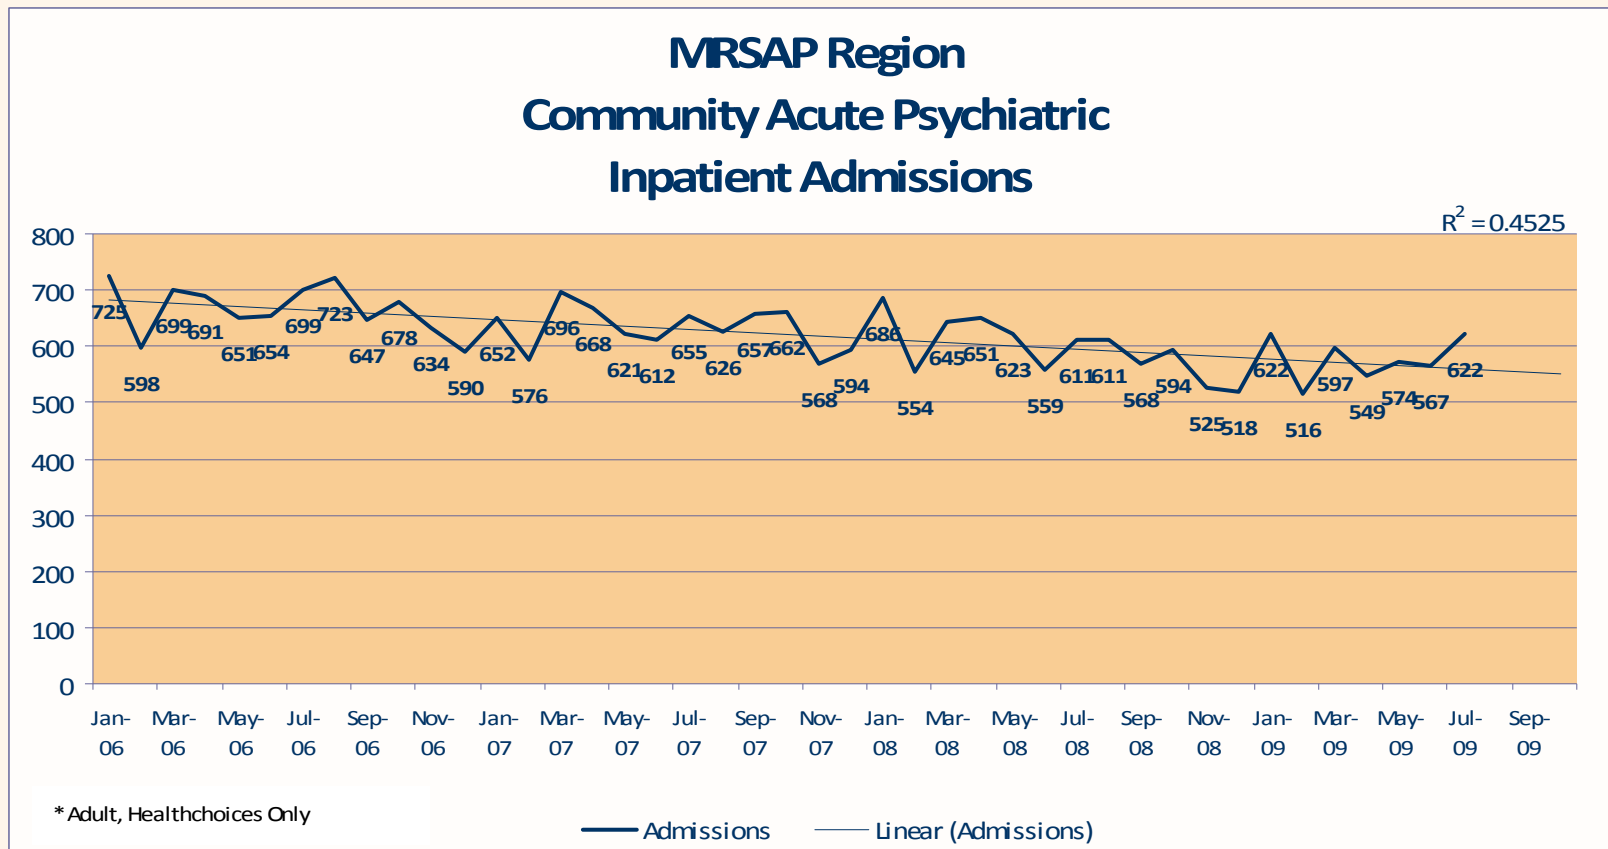

July 2006 – July 2009

Findings

Tracking since July 2006

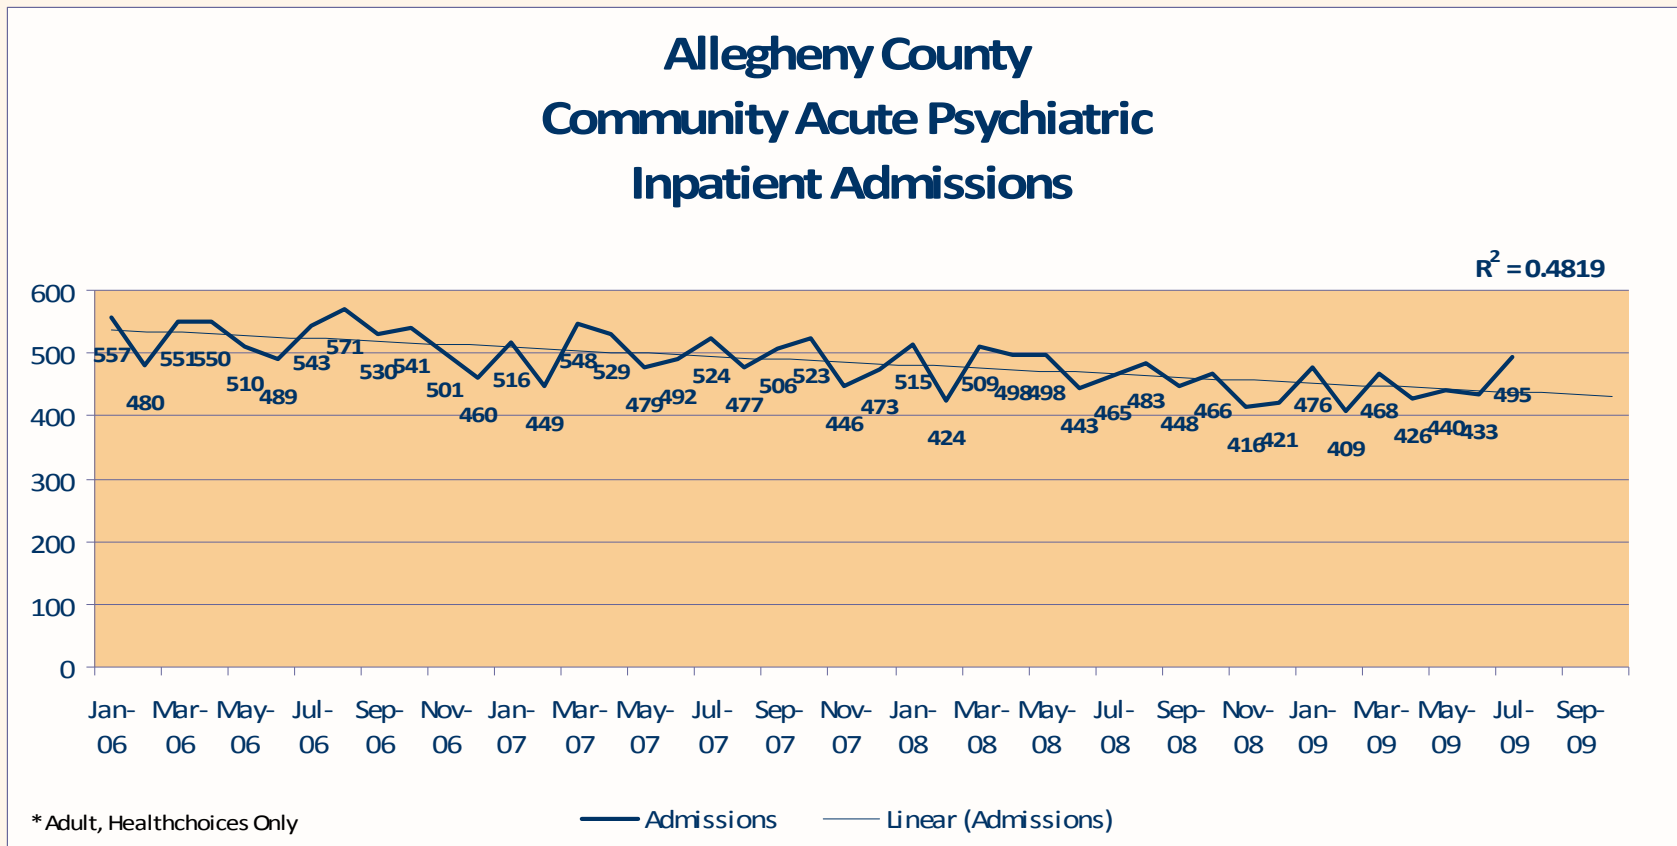

- For the region, inpatient admissions have slowly decreased over the period; however, there has been an increase over the last couple months.
- For the region, Average Length of Stay has trended slightly upward; however, the change in ALOS has been within one day.

Inpatient Admissions

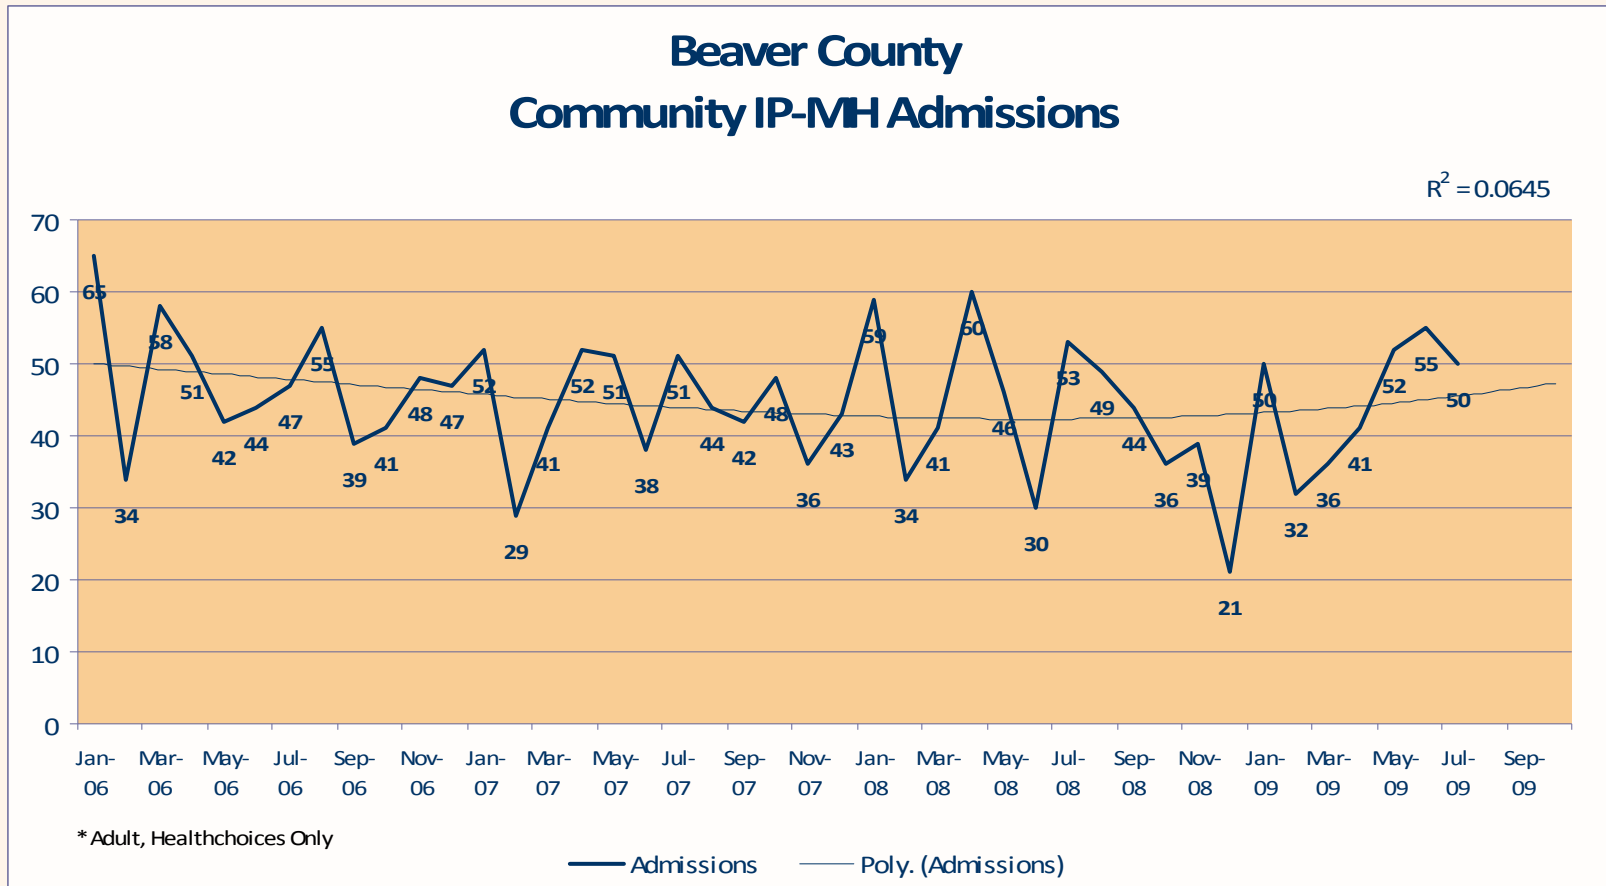

- For the region, admissions have risen since a low of 516 in February 2009. There continues to be a downward trend, however.

Inpatient Admissions

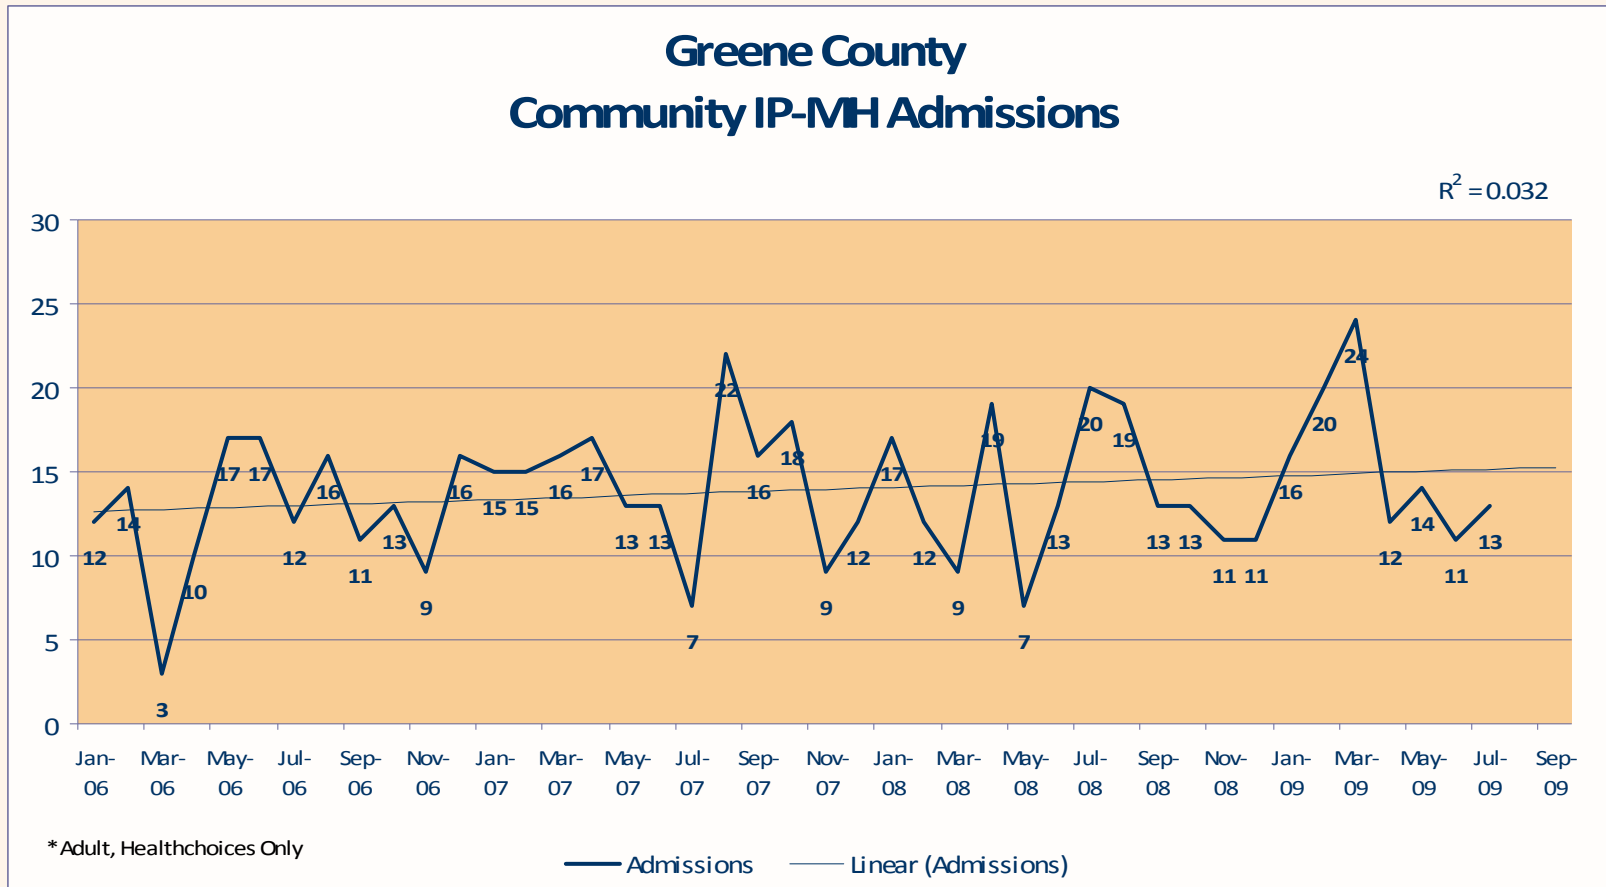

- Although admissions are continuing to trend downward, there has been a recent rise.

Inpatient Admissions

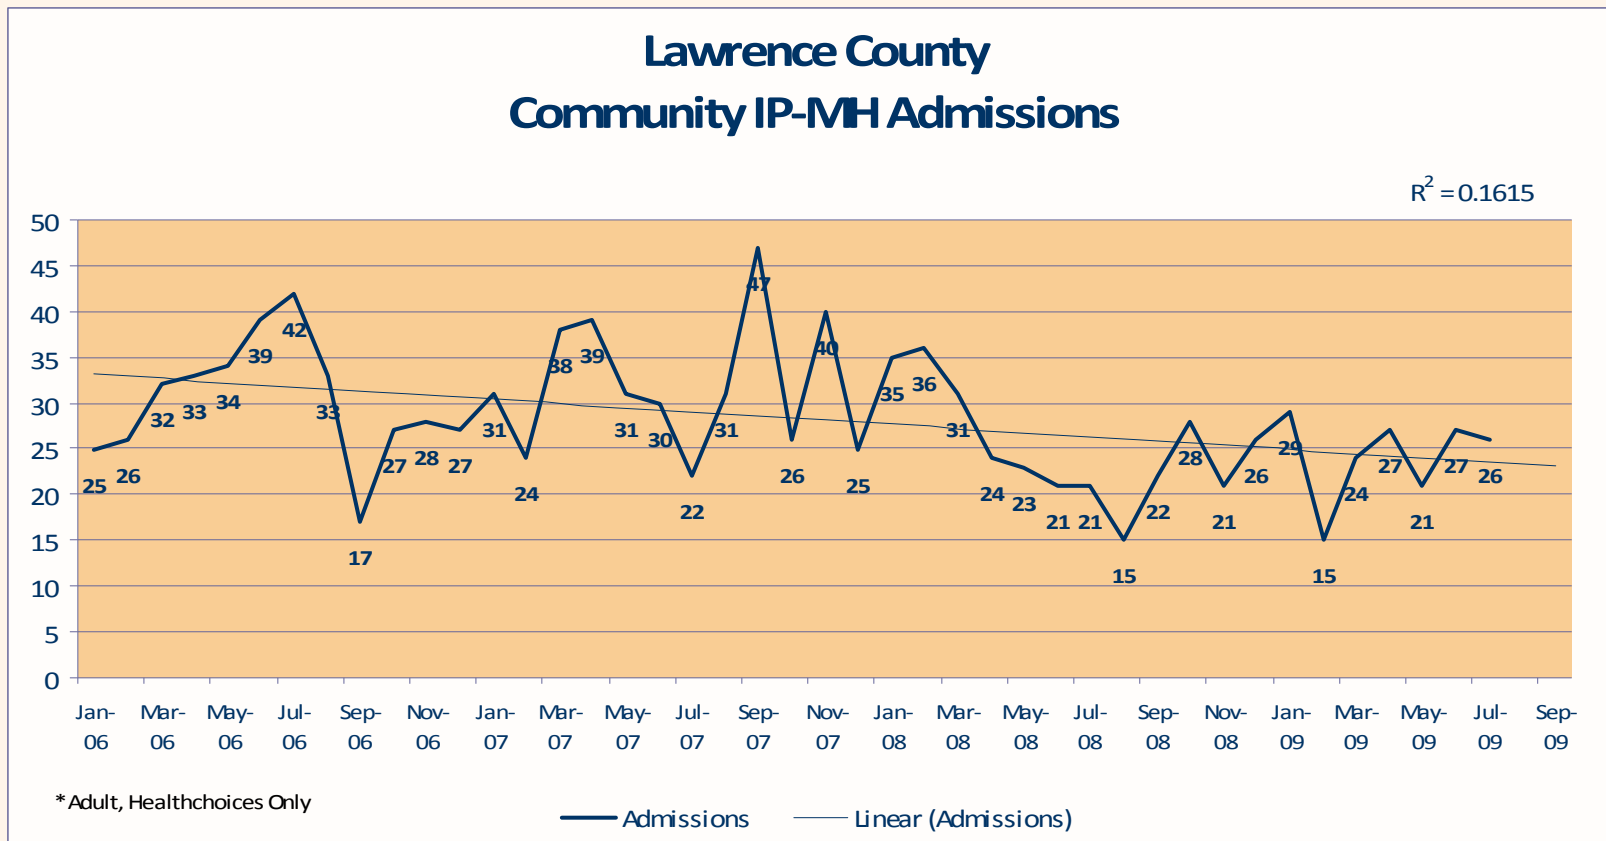

- Admissions continue to vary widely.

Inpatient Admissions

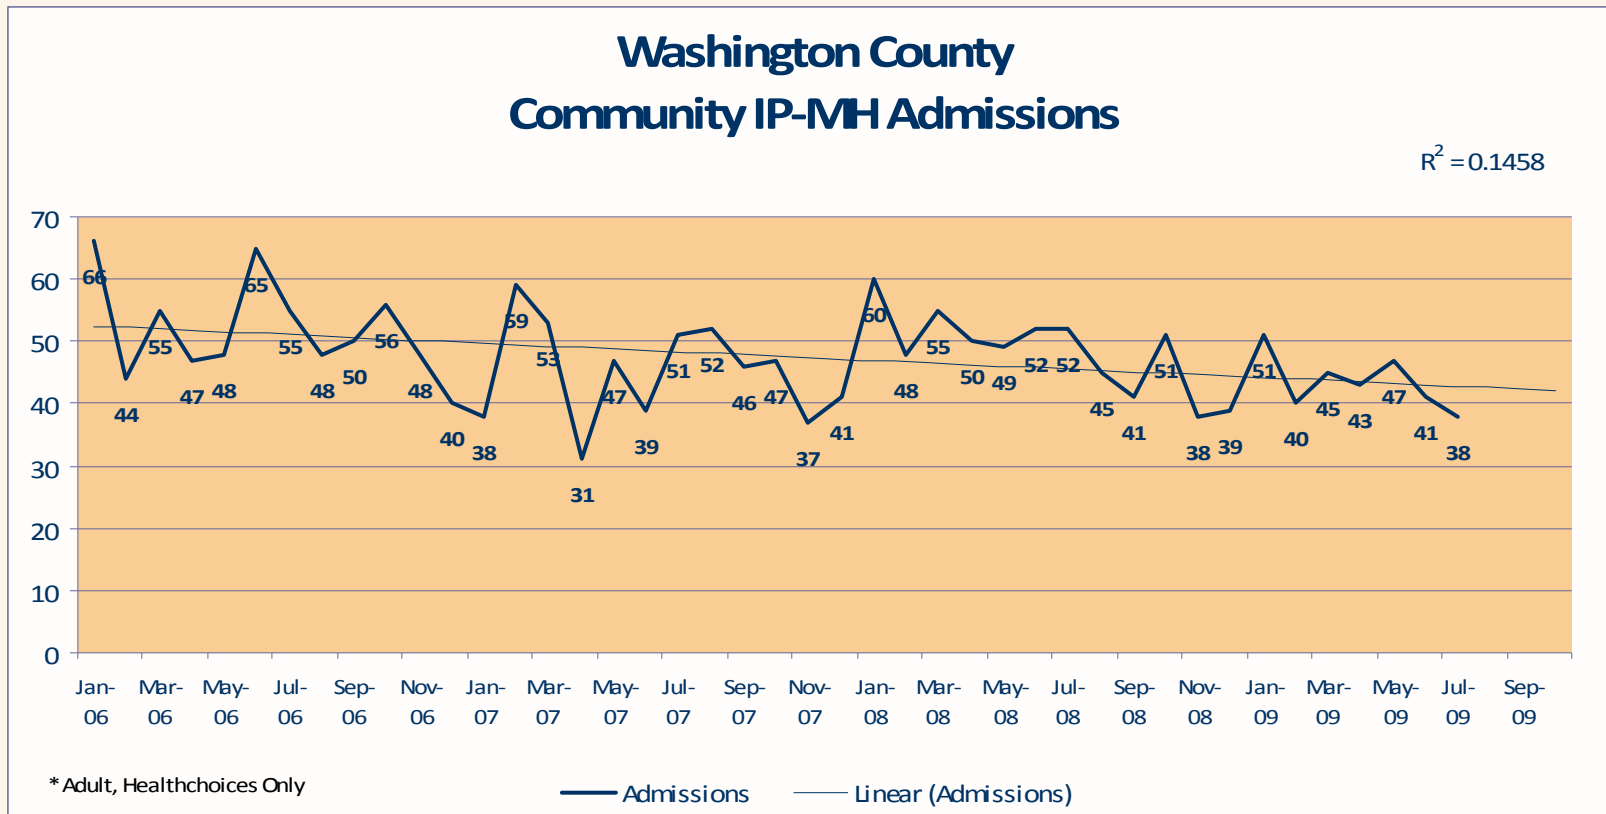

- Admissions have dropped in recent months after a high of 24 in March 2009.

Inpatient Admissions

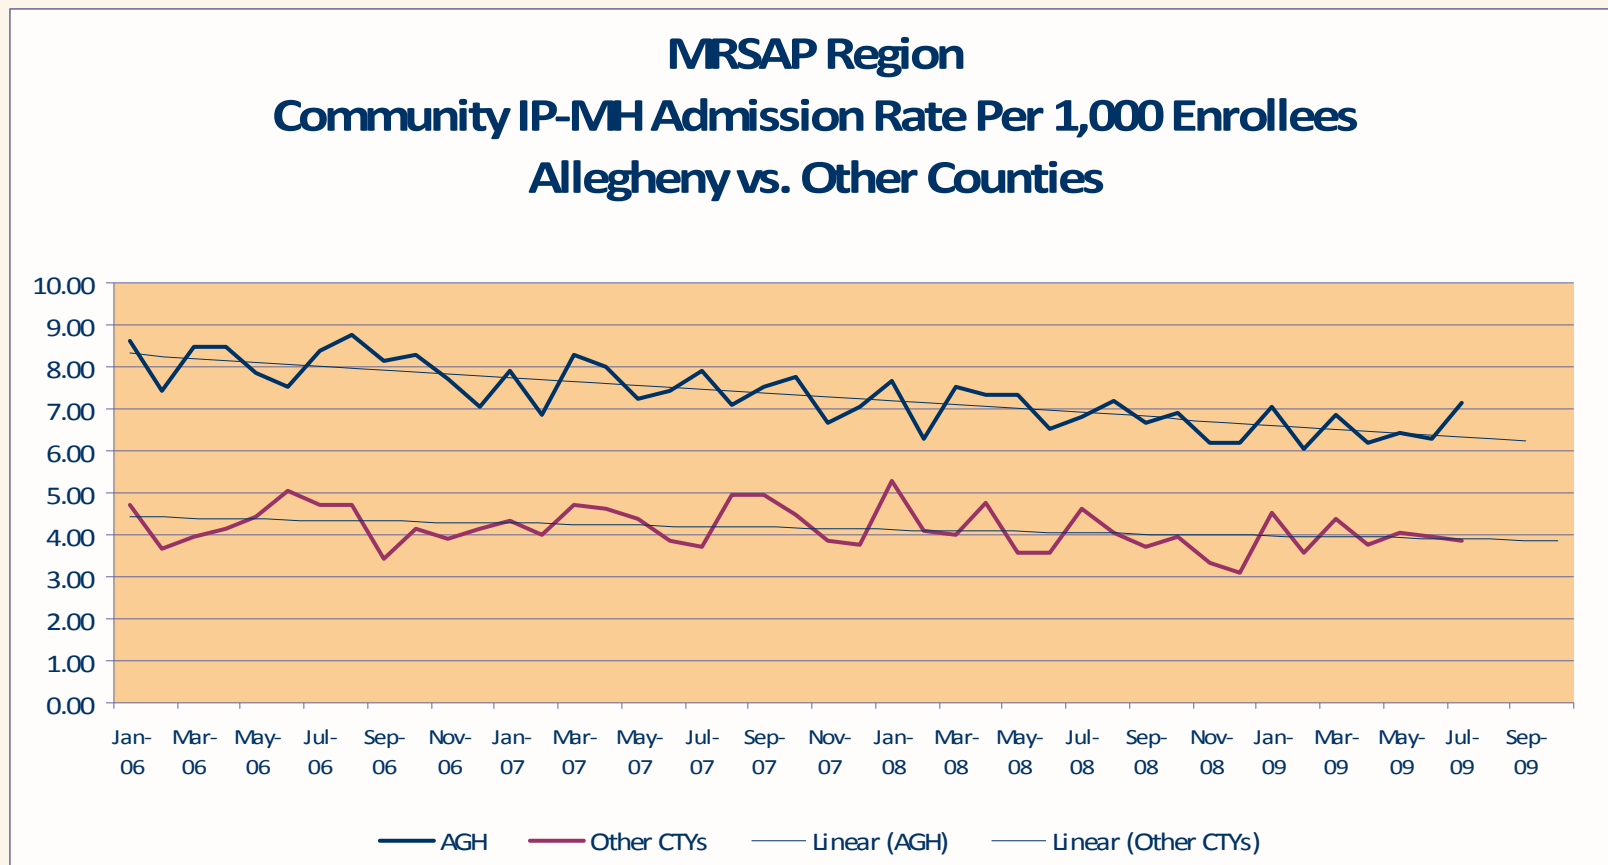

- Admissions are trending downward.

Inpatient Admissions

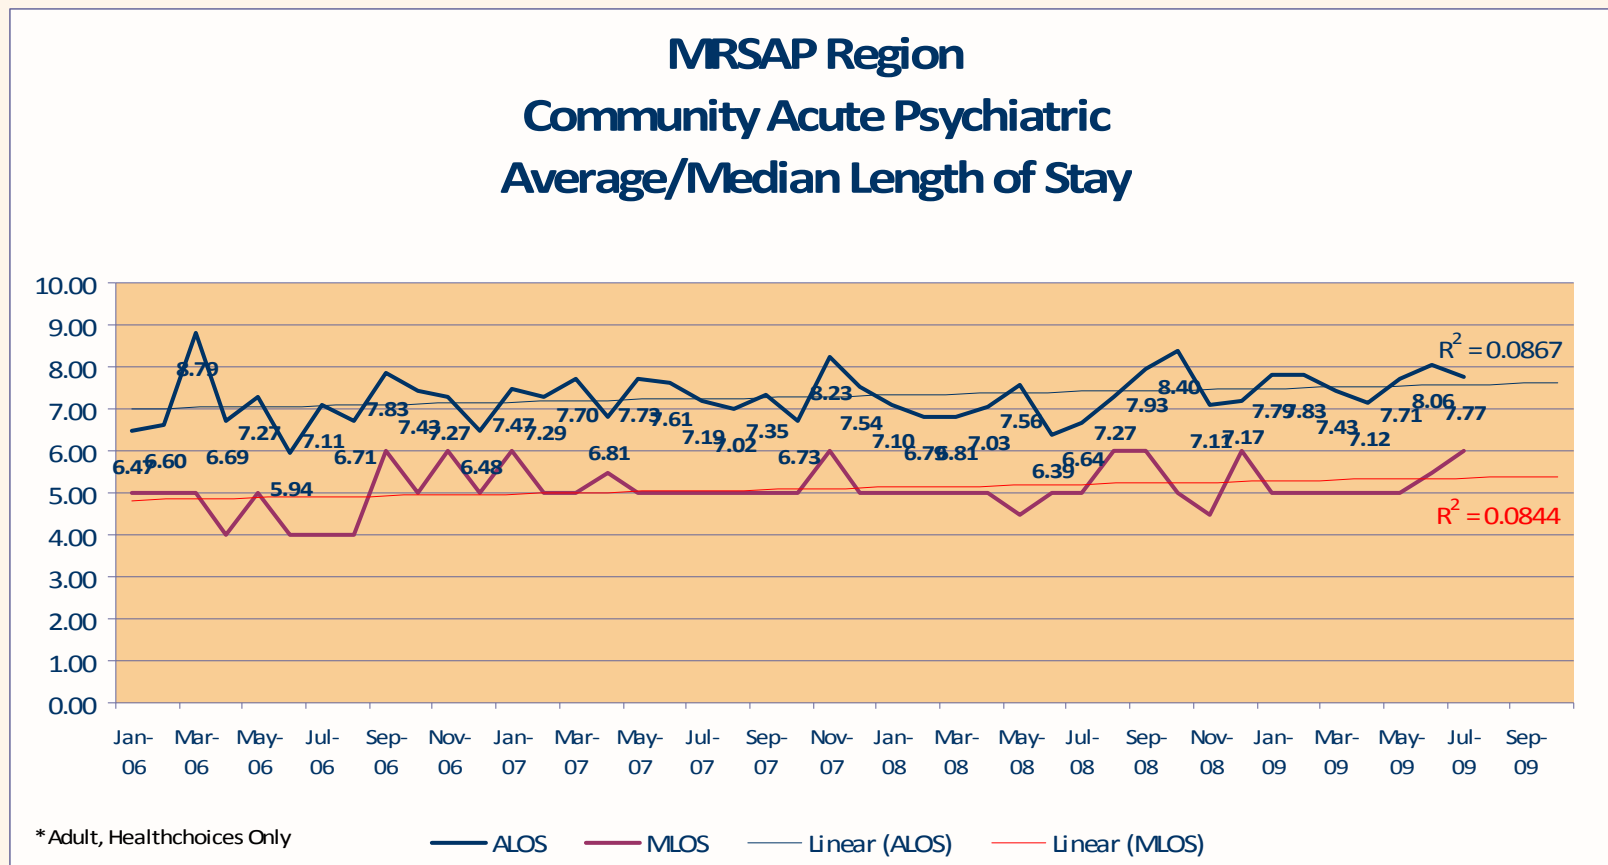

- Admissions are trending slightly downward.

Inpatient Admission Rate

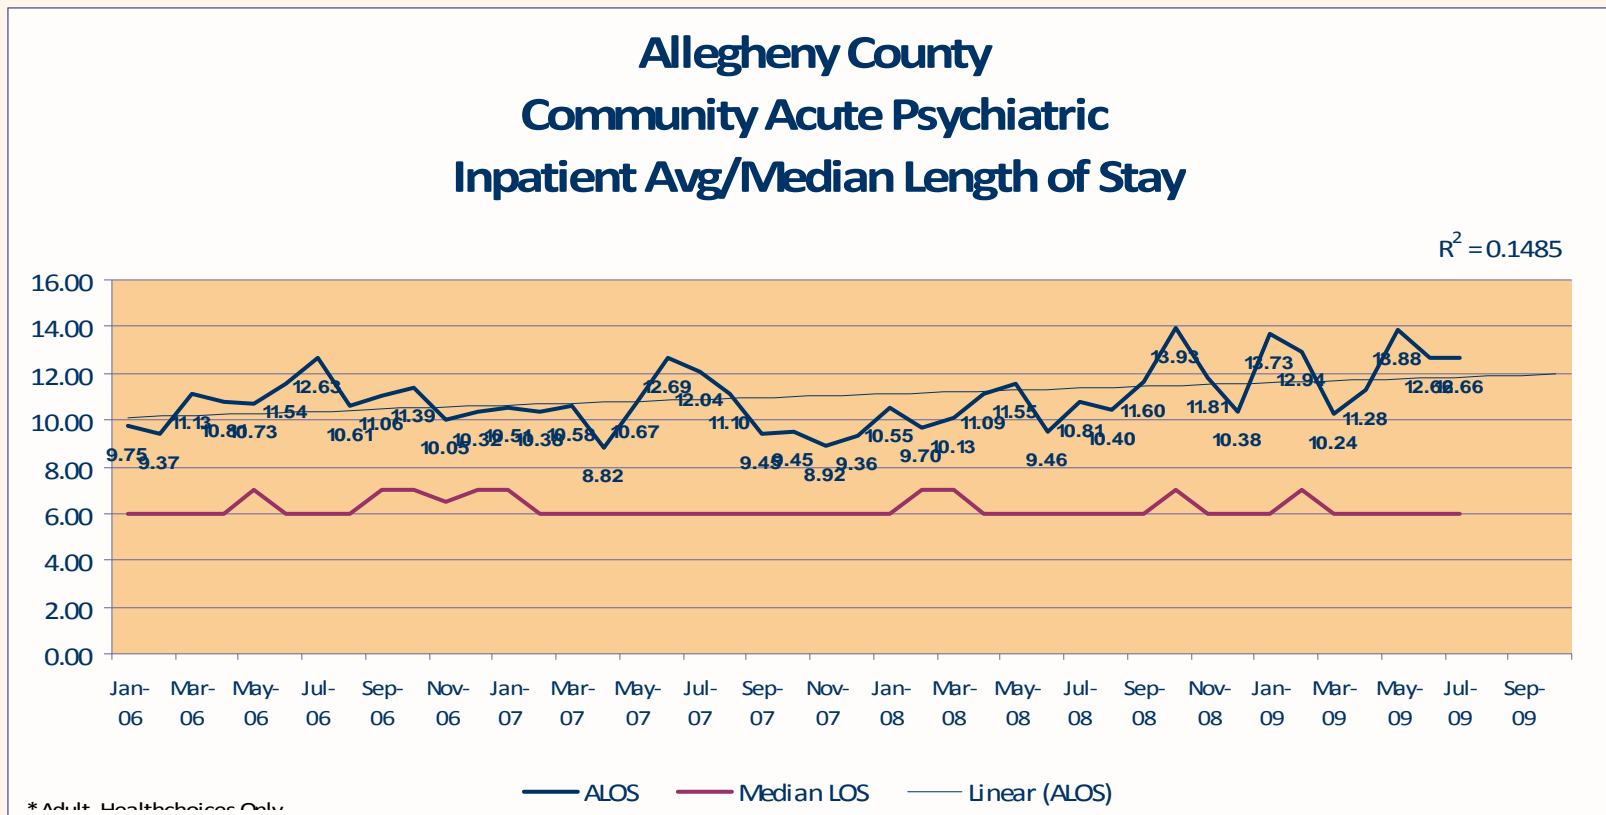

- Allegheny shows the highest admission rate, with an average of 7.33 admissions per 1000 enrollees vs. 4.16 in the other counties.

Inpatient Length of Stay

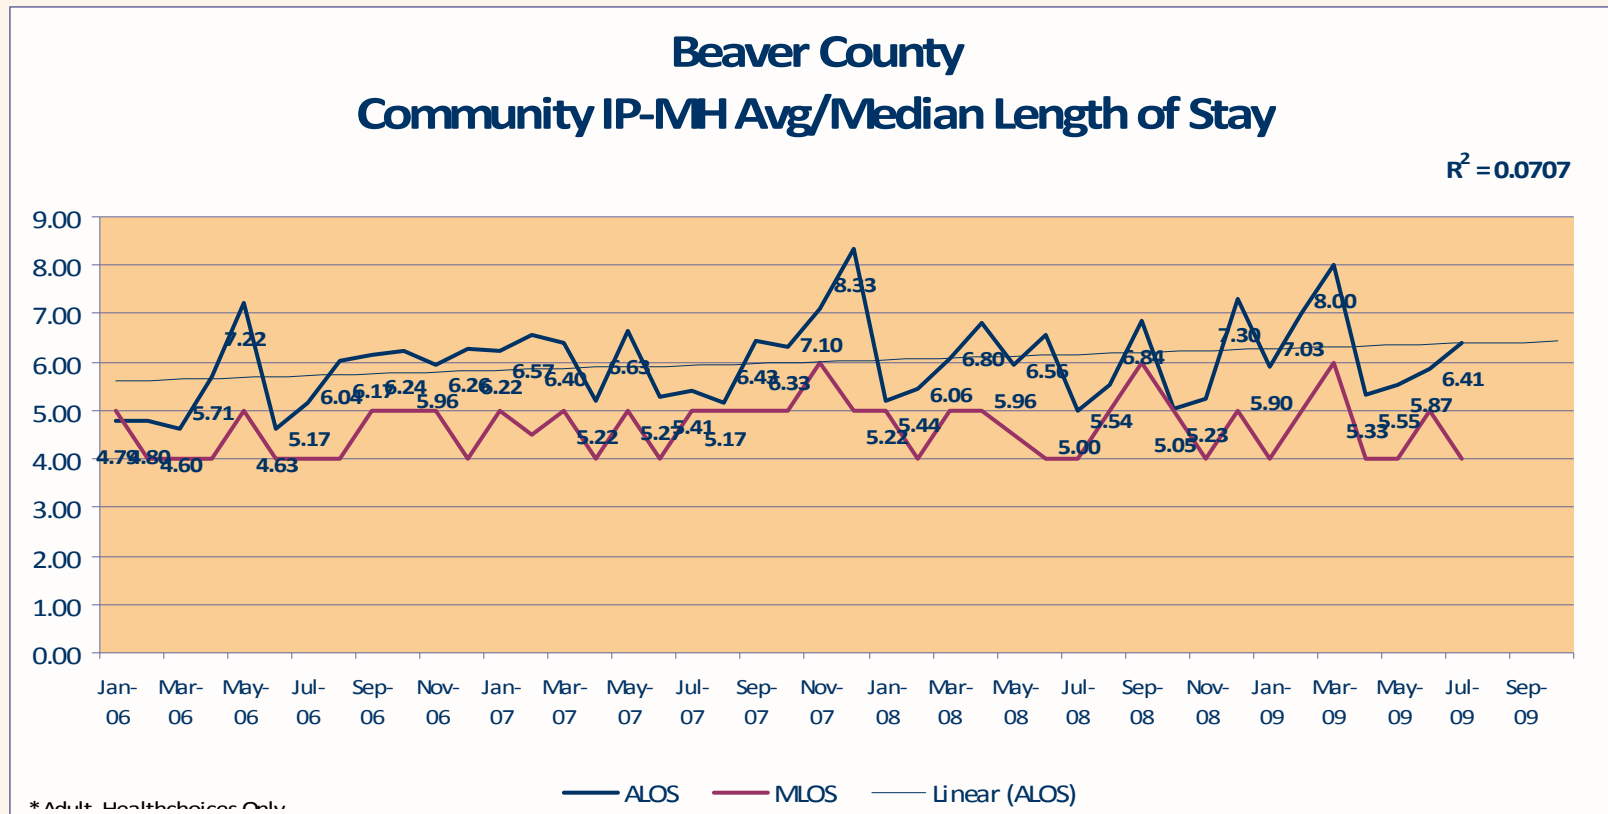

- For the region, ALOS is trending slightly upward. MLOS usually exists between five and six days.

Inpatient Length of Stay

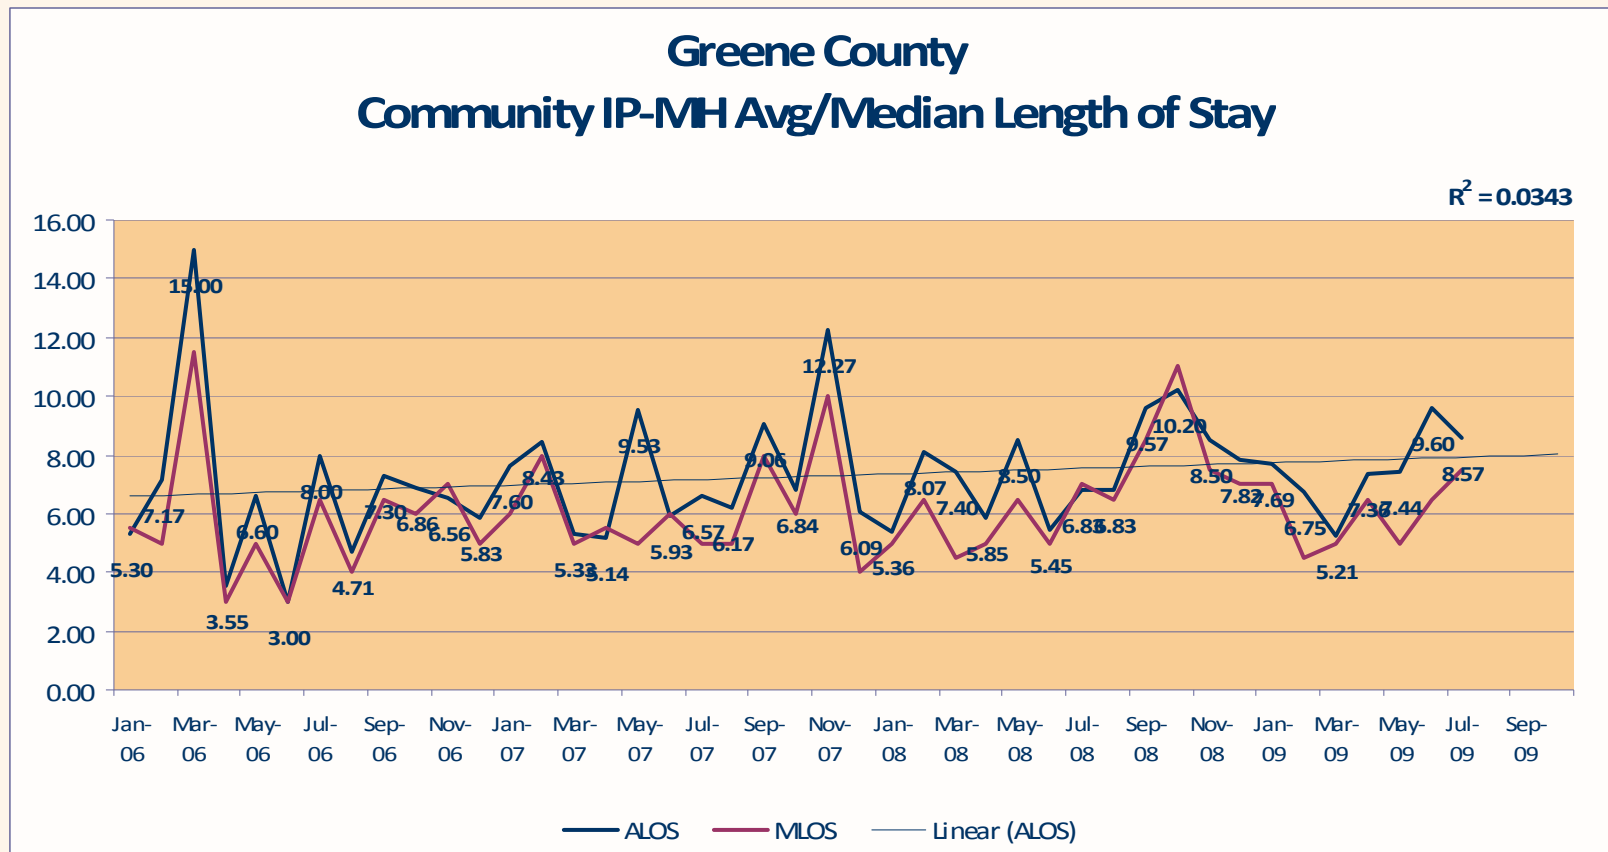

- ALOS is trending slightly upward
- MLOS fluctuates between six and seven days.

Inpatient Length of Stay

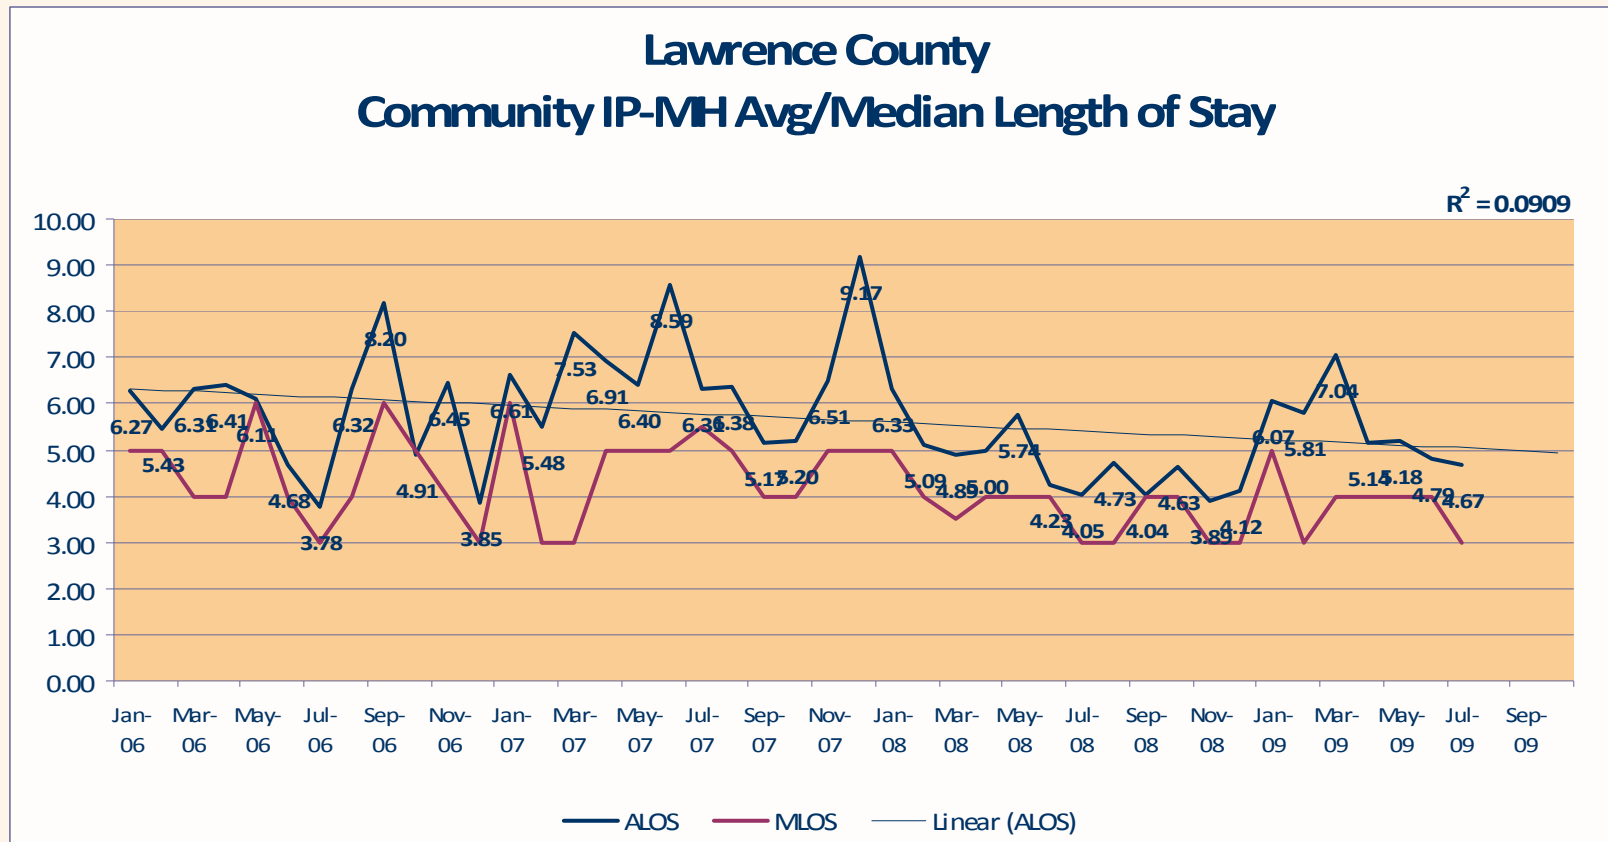

- ALOS per month has increased approximately one day over the entire period.

Inpatient Length of Stay

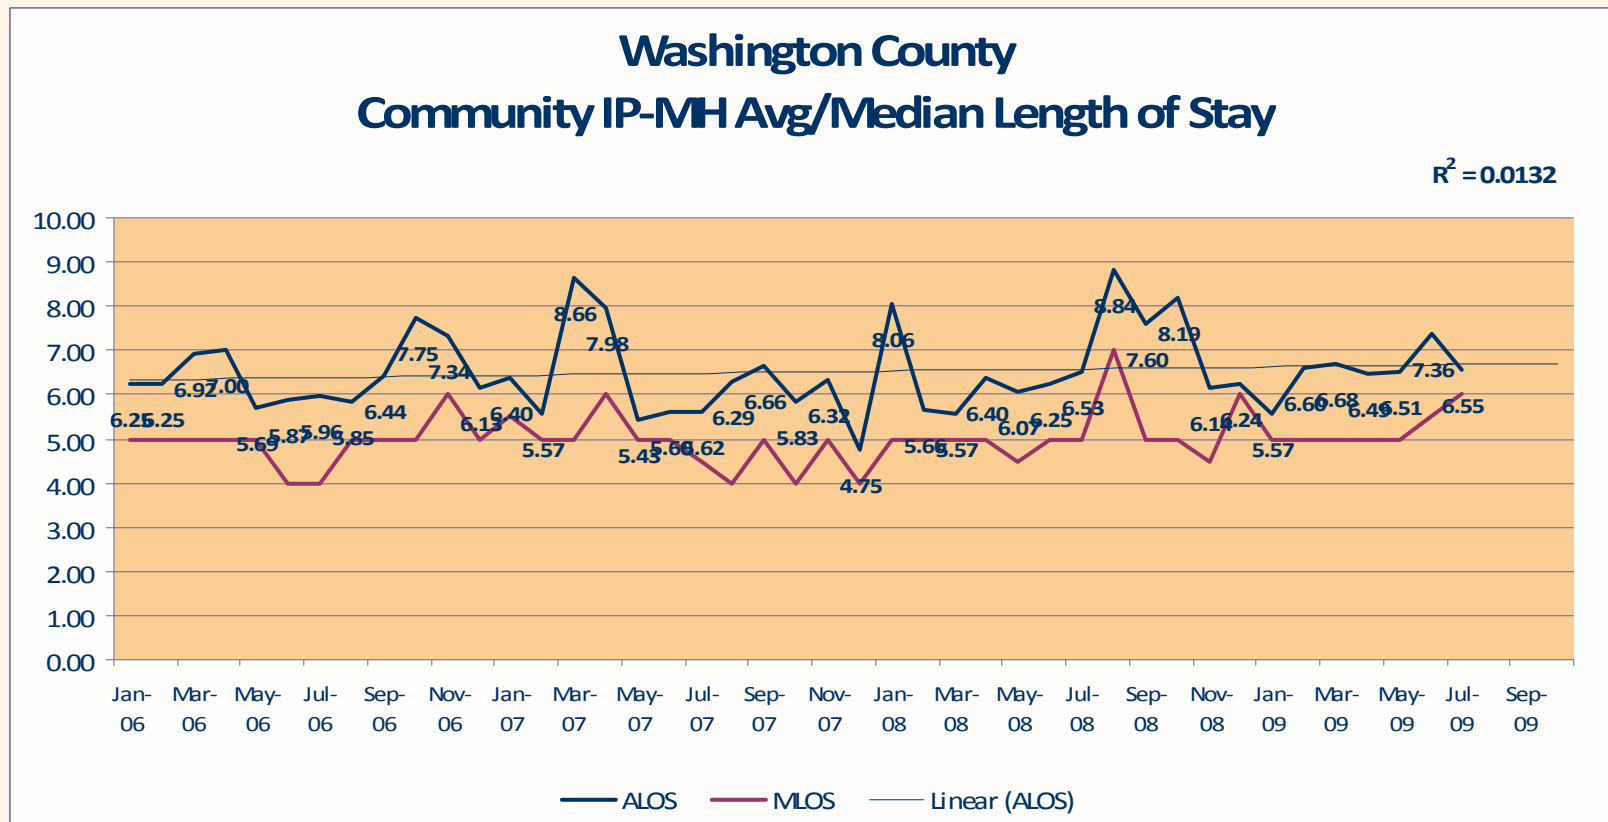

- ALOS continues to fluctuate.

Inpatient Length of Stay

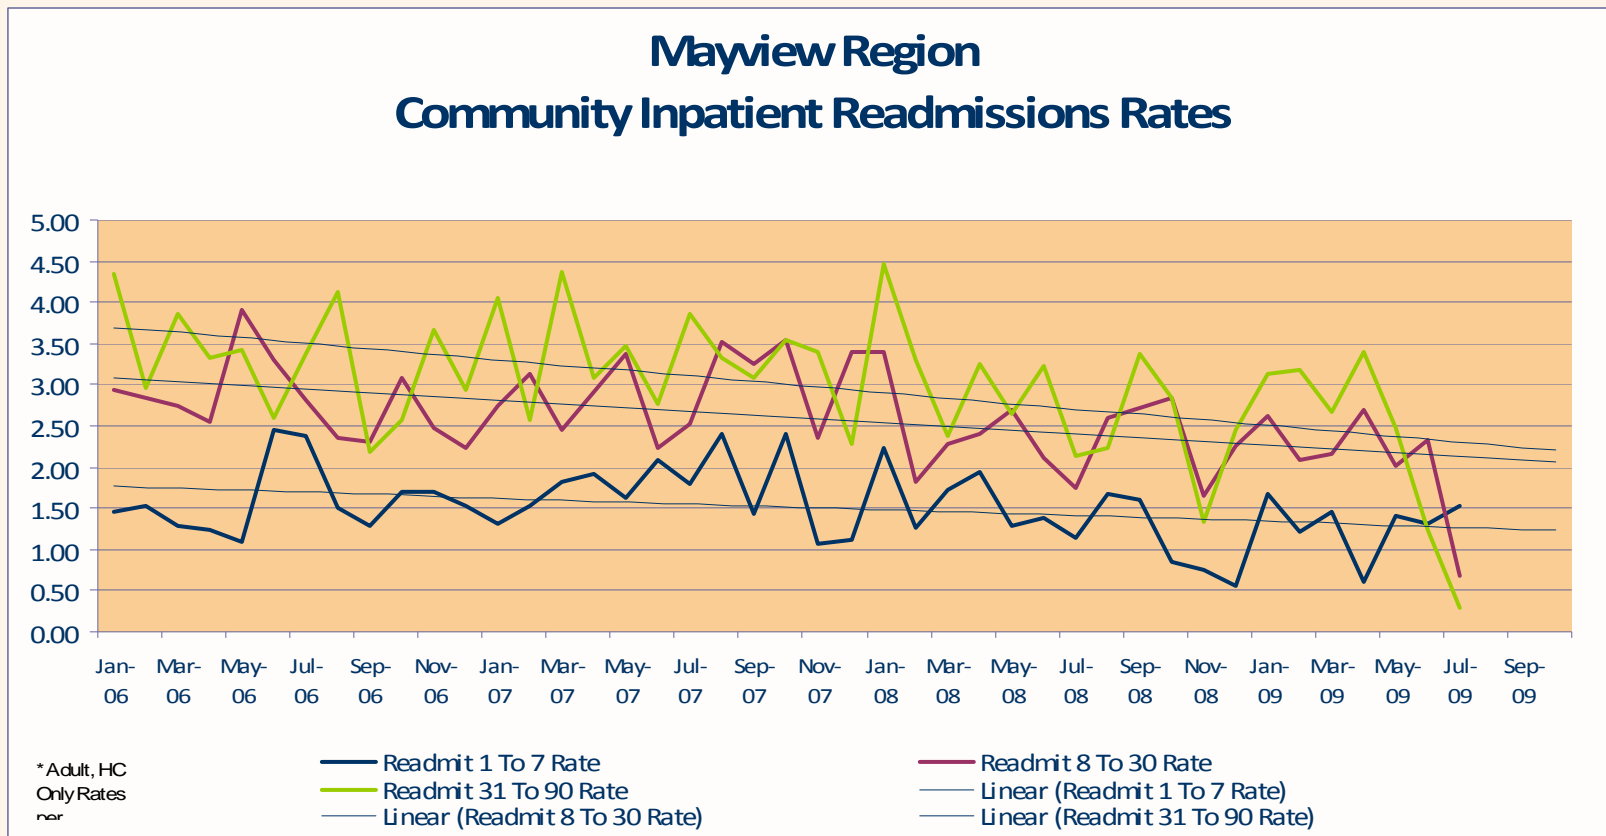

- ALOS is trending downward over the entire period.

Inpatient Length of Stay

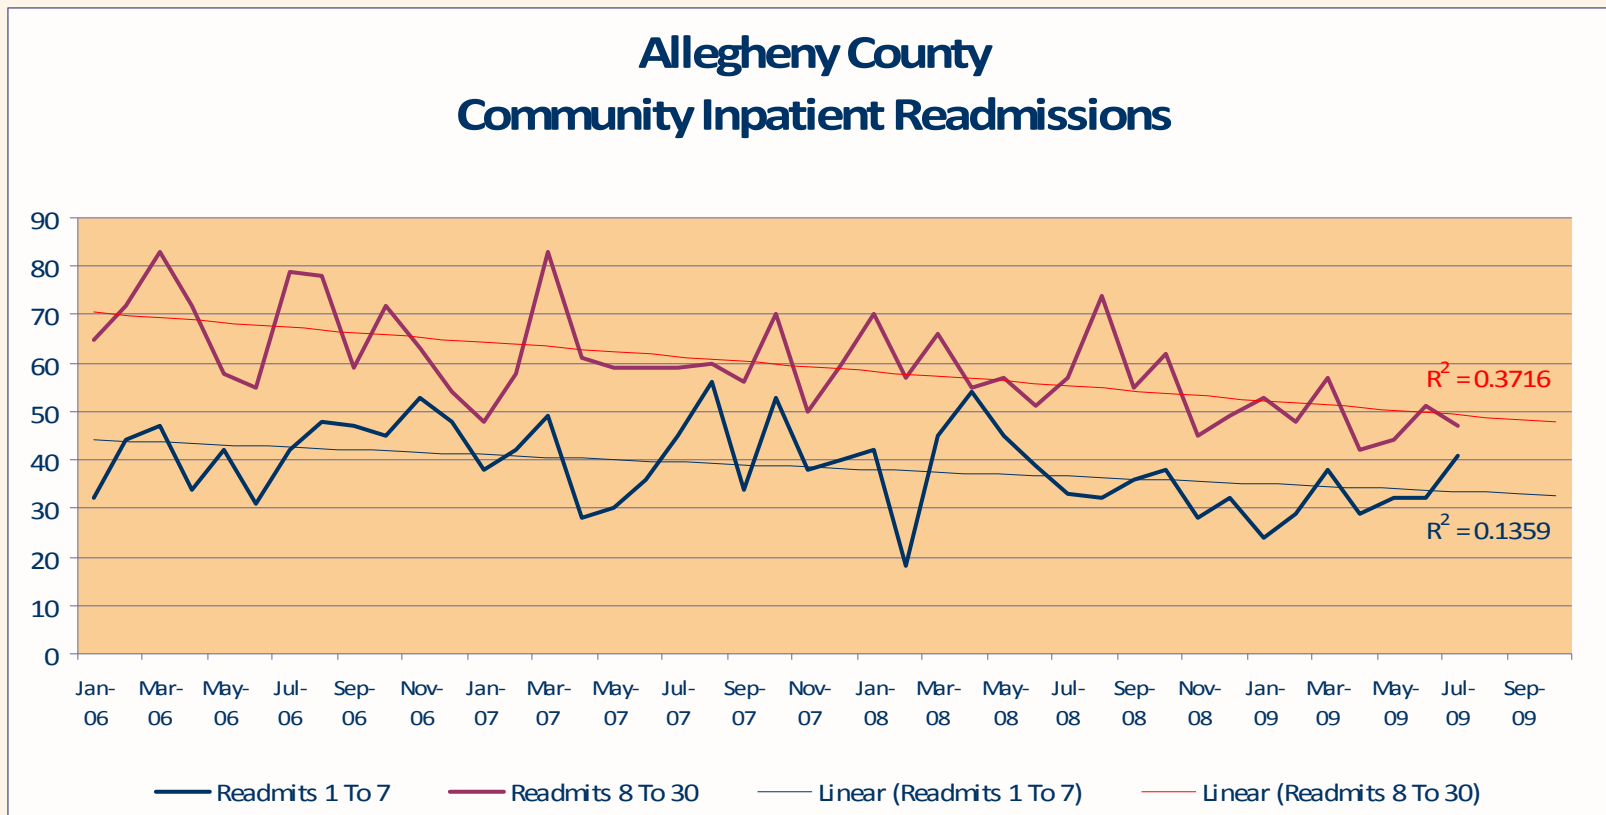

- ALOS is trending very slightly upward, but it has been within one day the entire period.

Inpatient Readmissions

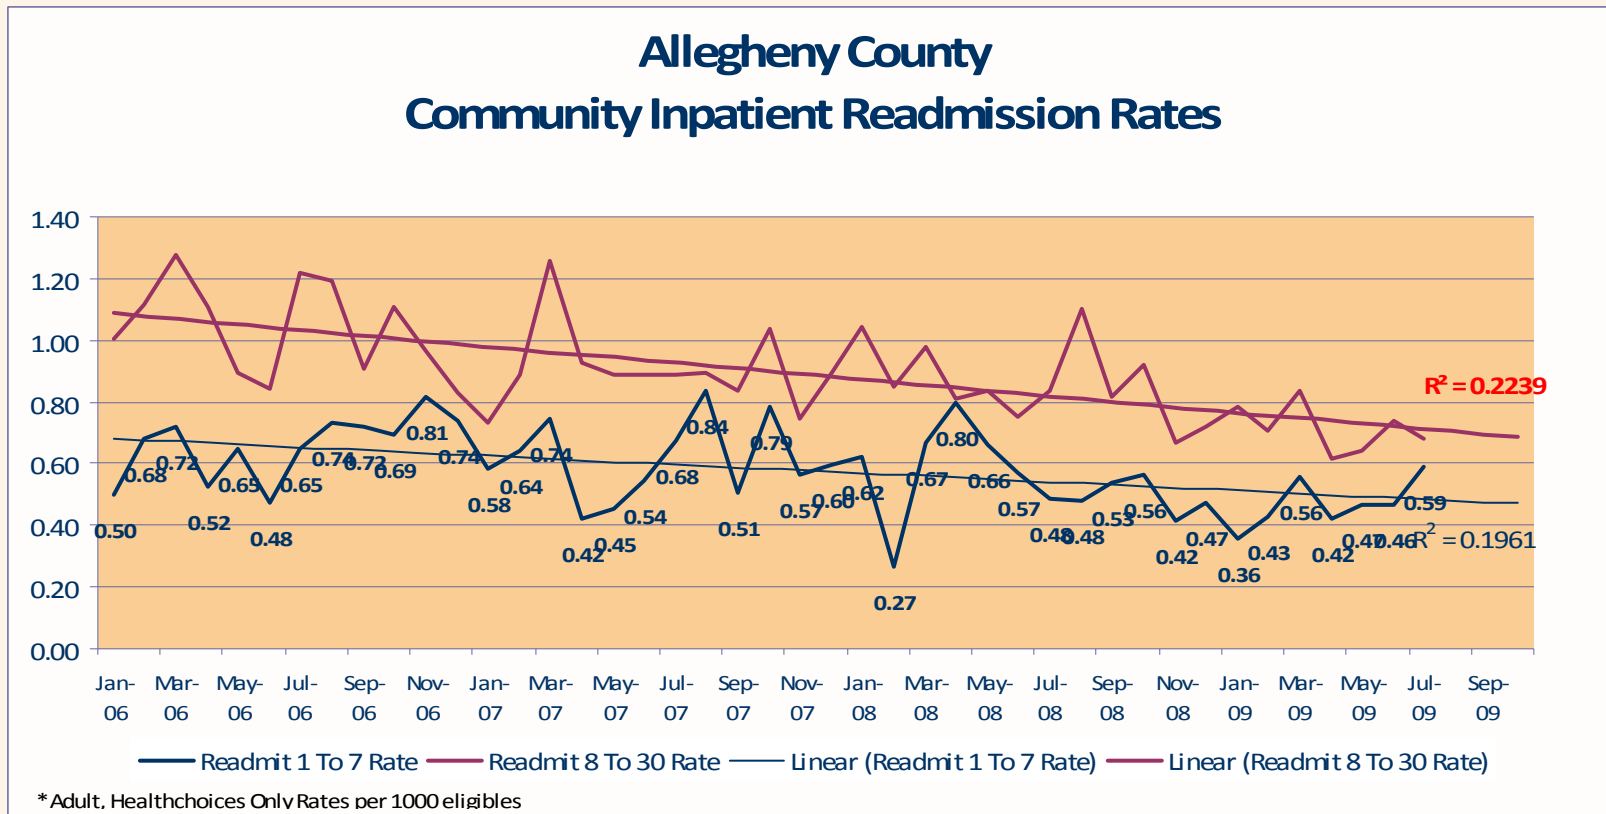

- Readmission rates for all categories are trending downward.

Inpatient Readmissions

- Both readmission categories are trending downward.

Inpatient Readmissions

- Both readmission rate categories are trending slightly downward.